Honors Convocation

Dr. Marina Balina
The Isaac Funk Professor and Professor of Russian Studies

Recipient of The Pantagraph Award for Teaching Excellence — 2008

Those who work with Dr. Marina Balina understand that her teaching holds a bit of magic. Whether it is a student timidly discovering the Russian language for the first time, or another striving to prepare for an intense research project, studying with Dr. Balina has been known to be a life-changing experience for many.

As a scholar of long-ago tales of magic and wonder, Dr. Balina's first order of business is to encourage her students to ask questions, whether about the world around them or about her studies of Russian literature and culture.

Earning her doctorate in literary history and theory from Leningrad State University (now St. Petersburg) in Russia in 1987, Dr. Balina has been striving for decades to help students realize the beauty of Russian language and literature. She earned her master's degree in German from Herzen Pedagogical University in Leningrad in 1975 and did her undergraduate work at Paedagogische Hochschule in Potsdam in the early 1970s.

Coming to Illinois Wesleyan in 1989, Dr. Balina's innovative teaching style has influenced students and colleagues inside and outside the classroom, and last year she was appointed to the re-established Isaac Funk Professorship. As a faculty member and former chair of the Modern and Classical Languages and Literatures Department, she has helped reshape the curriculum and been deeply involved in international education through her work with International Studies, study abroad and the May Term Office. She has advised numerous student honors projects and conference presentations. And she has been known to inspire more than one student to use the Russian language in his or her career.

In many ways, Dr. Balina exemplifies the Illinois Wesleyan ideal of teaching across the global community. As an internationally celebrated scholar, Dr. Balina is spearheading the rediscovery of children's literature written during the time of Soviet Russia. Sharing her scholarship with the world, she recently addressed conferences and seminars in Germany, Italy, Sweden, France and Russia. A prolific author and editor, Dr. Balina has published more than 30 articles and five books in three languages — Russian, German and English, including 2007's Russian Children's Literature and Culture. Her work has been translated in French and Italian.

Dr. Balina has been the recipient of several grants from the National Endowment for the Humanities as well as the U.S. Department of Education, the Austrian Ministry of Culture, the American Association of Learned Societies and the Kennan Institute for Advanced Russian Studies of the Woodrow Wilson Center for International Scholars.

Excellence in teaching is a hallmark of Illinois Wesleyan. The Pantagraph Award was established to recognize this strength and to honor one faculty member at this occasion who brings spirit, passion and scholarship to the art of teaching. Today we honor Marina Balina.

This program is dedicated to the Class of 2008 and
to students who have earned scholastic and activity honors.
