A NOTE FROM THE MANAGING EDITOR . . .

When I assumed the position of Managing Editor at the end of last year, Undergraduate Review was relatively unheard of by both faculty and students and getting submissions was a difficult process. However, due to much hard work, we were able to triple the number of submissions received this year (as opposed to last year), which was both overwhelming and wonderful, but then we discovered we faced financial problems. Fortunately, though, Student Senate and Dean Hurwitz managed to secure enough funds for us to publish this year's edition.

Now after a year of hard work, I would just like to thank everyone who has put time and energy into this edition: the students who submitted, Dean Hurwitz, the Student Senate, Dr. Bray (our faculty advisor), and this year's editorial board. I really believe that Undergraduate Review is a valuable publication because it highlights the best student writing, offering both the chance for us to be published and for Wesleyan to recognize its high calibre of students on campus. I hope that in the future UR can expand to represent many different majors and interests on this campus, and the only way it can do so is with your support. Again, the time and effort everyone has given is deeply appreciated, and I hope that Undergraduate Review will soon be an established part of campus life.
