WESLEYAN
UNIVERSITY

HONORS
DAY
1992

*Dr. John D. Wenum
Director, Division of Social Science
Professor and Head of the Department of Political Science*

In the mid-1970's during a tight race for a seat on the McLean County Board, candidate John Wenum told his Wesleyan colleagues that "the sky ahead is filled with flames." Despite that fiery forecast, Wenum won the race handily and went on to win re-election for several additional terms.

For more than 30 years, Wenum has been involved in the political process. He has served with distinction as a research fellow in governmental offices; as a consultant to universities, state and county governments, and public policy foundations; as a member of the Sixth Illinois Constitutional Convention; a human relations commissioner; and an elected local official.

Wenum, a prolific writer, has published on topics such as city and state economic development, techniques of city growth, cooperative land use planning, the implementation of a new state constitution, and the development of regional water supplies. He describes his most recent publication, Introduction to County Government: Guidelines for County Board Members (University of Illinois Press 1991), as a "how-to book, with some philosophy mixed in," drawn on his 12-year tenure as a member of the McLean County Board.

Throughout his extraordinary career, Wenum has blended his academic credentials as a college professor with active public service, exemplifying for his students the possibilities and opportunities of both fields. He earned his bachelor's degree in 1961 at Lake Forest College, then went on to graduate work at Northwestern University for his master's and doctoral degrees. For six years he taught at Lake Forest, which granted him leaves of absence for his tenure as a member of the Illinois State Constitutional Convention and later as staff director of the Citizens Task Force on Constitutional Implementation. In 1971 he joined the political science faculty at Illinois Wesleyan as an associate professor and head of the department. He was promoted to full professor in 1974 and in 1988 became director of the social science division.

Wenum was part of a policy study group which analyzed the business climate in Illinois and recommended initiatives to encourage new investment in the state. He and a Wesleyan colleague, Dr. Margaret Chapman of the economics department, and Dr. Arun Elhance of the University of Illinois have been at work on a long-term study of the impact of Diamond-Star Motors Corp. on Bloomington-Normal and the State of Illinois. Wenum and Chapman jointly received a five-year grant from Household International to fund research and course preparation on regional economic development.

He holds membership in the Midwest Political Science Association, the American Academy of Political and Social Sciences, the Illinois Political Science Association and the Policy Studies Organization.
