BIOGRAPHY OF DR. ROBERT S. ECKLEY

Dr. Robert S. Eckley became the fifteenth president of Illinois Wesleyan University August 1, 1968. A native of Illinois, Dr. Eckley has achieved recognition as a scholar, educator, economist, and churchman.

Dr. Eckley received the B.S. degree in economics from Bradley University in 1942 and the M.B.A. degree from the University of Minnesota in 1943. After service in the North Atlantic during World War II, he was appointed as a teaching fellow at Harvard University, where he earned the M.A. degree in 1948 and the Ph.D. degree in economics in 1949.

As a member of the faculty at the University of Kansas from 1949 to 1951, Dr. Eckley directed a study of the former Dust Bowl area of that state. In 1951 he accepted a position as Industrial Economist at the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City.

Dr. Eckley joined Caterpillar Tractor Co. in 1954 to establish an economic research department. He was responsible for production scheduling, pricing, and product control. By coordinating sales forecasting and scheduling, he contributed to the company's efforts to stabilize employment. In a lead article in the July, 1966 issue of the Harvard Business Review, Dr. Eckley analyzed various business programs for the promotion of employment stability. He made frequent appearances before Congressional and other governmental committees as his company's spokesman on behalf of freer trade. As a participant in the corporate planning of plant capacity requirements both in the United States and abroad, he made frequent visits to Europe, Latin America, and the Far East.

Dr. Eckley is a member of the American Economic Association, the National Association of Business Economists, and the American Statistical Association.

Dr. Eckley has been active in church and civic affairs. For five years he served as a lay leader and taught a college-age class at the First United Methodist Church in Peoria. He was an officer of the Peoria Area Council of Churches and is now the First Vice-President of the Illinois Council of Churches. During 1962 and 1963 he served on the Peoria Human Relations Commission, and from 1965 to 1968 he was President of the Bradley United Christian Foundation. Dr. Eckley is presently on the board of the Methodist Hospital of Central Illinois.

THE MACE

During the Medieval Period, the mace—made of wood and shod with metal—was an effective military weapon. Later, as new weapons developed, it became a symbol of authority. The earliest ceremonial maces were borne by the bodyguards of Richard I of England and Phillip II of France. Their use by cities and towns in England had become widespread by the end of the sixteenth century. Among the maces in use today are those in the British Houses of Parliament, those carried before ecclesiastical dignitaries, and those of universities. The mace symbolizes the authority of the President of the University.

The mace which leads today's Inaugural Procession is making its first appearance at an official function of Illinois Wesleyan University. It was designed and created by Mr. Tony Vestuto, Assistant Professor of Art. It is made of bronze and walnut—the bronze for power and endurance and the walnut for organic strength. On the top is a cupola representing the bell tower of "Old North", the first building on Wesleyan's campus. The bell inside the cupola represents "Hedding Bell" located across from the John Wesley Powell monument. The cupola and bell together symbolize the union of Illinois Wesleyan University and Hedding College in 1930. On the cylindrical base below the cupola, the names of Wesleyan's Presidents are engraved in chronological order. The wood from which the staff is made came from a piece of walnut timber that was salvaged when "Old North" was razed in 1966.

THE INAUGURAL FANFARE

The "Fanfare for an Inaugural" was composed especially for this occasion by R. Bedford Watkins, Professor of Piano in the School of Music.

PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The gold plated sterling silver medallion with which the President is invested during the Inauguration is the emblem of his office worn on all academic and ceremonial occasions. It is a reproduction of the seal of the University which was designed in 1866 by two faculty members: Professor Jabez R. Jaques and Professor John Wesley Powell. The Presidential Medallion is a gift from the Alumni Association and was worn for the first time by President Lloyd Bertholf during the graduation exercises in June, 1966. Engraved upon each of the lower links of the chain is the name of one of Wesleyan's presidents with the date of his tenure. These links are in chronological order moving up both sides of the chain from the medallion.

THE ACADEMIC ATTIRE

In accordance with a code adopted by colleges and universities in the United States at the end of the nineteenth century, the academic costume indicates the subject field, the highest degree held by its wearer, and the university which granted the degree. The standard gown is black and the patterns vary with the degree held. The doctor's gown is cut much fuller than the others and is marked by velvet panels down the front, around the neck, and on the sleeves.

The hood is lined with the colors of the university which granted the degree. The color used in the border of the hood indicates the subject of the degree. The standard cap is the black mortarboard. The doctor's cap usually has a gold tassel. The master's and bachelor's tassel is often black but, in recent years, it has become customary to use colored tassels symbolizing, like the hood, the subject area in which the wearer has taken his degree.

ALMA WESLEYANA

From hearts aflame our love
we pledge to thee,
Where'er we wander,
over land or sea.
Through time unending,
loyal we will be,
True to our Alma Mater,
Wesleyan.

When college days
are fully past and gone,
While life endures
from twilight dream 'til dawn,
Grandly thy soul
shall with us linger on,
Star-crowned, our Alma Mater,
Wesleyan.

(Words by
Dr. W. E. Schultz)
