Honors Convocation

April 13, 2011

Westbrook Auditorium—Presser Hall

11:00 a.m.

Dan Terkla

Professor of English

Recipient of the Kemp Foundation Award for Teaching Excellence — 2011

Dan Terkla is known for his artistry in guiding students, so perhaps it is apt that his greatest scholarly achievements thus far come through his exploration of medieval maps. His scholarly contributions to the history of cartography and the study of The Bayeux Tapestry have been recognized on both sides of the Atlantic Ocean. His insights into the placement of the medieval world map in England's Hereford Cathedral redefined the architectural conception of the building's north transept. The author of numerous articles, Dr. Terkla recently contributed to and co-edited The Bayeux Tapestry: New Interpretations (The Boydell Press, 2009) and co-edited New Research on the Bayeux Tapestry: The Proceedings of a Conference at the British Museum (Oxbow Books, 2010).

A fellow of London's Royal Geographical Society, Dr. Terkla's recent scholarship has been supported by a J.B. Harley Fellowship in the History of Cartography and a British Academy/Newberry Library Fellowship. Dr. Terkla has been inducted into Phi Kappa Phi, the national scholastic honorary society, and elected to the Council of the Society for the History of Discoveries.

Respected by his peers across continents, Dr. Terkla has spoken and organized sessions at several international medievalist congresses, including those at the British Museum and the University of Leeds in England. He has given presentations and lectures across the United States, from the annual meeting of medievalists in Kalamazoo, Michigan, to the Folger Shakespeare Library in Washington, D.C., and to the International Conference on the History of Cartography at Harvard University.

Dr. Terkla earned a bachelor's degree in liberal studies and comparative literature in 1979 from California State University in Long Beach (CSULB). He stayed to earn tenure and a life credential to teach K-12 students in 1980. After teaching elementary and junior high school, Dr. Terkla was accepted as a visiting scholar at Balliol College, Oxford. There, under the tutelage of Elspeth Kennedy, he wrote the thesis that earned him a master's degree in medieval studies from CSULB in 1986. Dr. Terkla continued on to the University of Southern California, graduating in 1992 with his doctorate in comparative literature and medieval studies. He joined the faculty of Illinois Wesleyan in 1995.

At Illinois Wesleyan, Dr. Terkla is a venerated professor. He teaches classes on such subjects as travel narratives, Chaucer, the Arthurian legends, the Beat writers and word-and-image theory. He was the founding advisor of the Illinois Wesleyan chapter of the International English Honors Society, Sigma Tau Delta, which was named Outstanding Chapter in 2007. In addition to his committee work, Dr. Terkla has served as Coordinator of the World of Ideas courses since 2002, chaired the Humanities Series from 2001-2005, and directed the University's London Program in 2003.

When announced as the recipient of the 2011 Kemp Teaching Award, the University's highest award, a comment was read by one of the many students who have been inspired by Dr. Terkla. "He teaches for life," the student said simply. "He does not just pass on knowledge, but instills passion."

Excellence in teaching is a hallmark of Illinois Wesleyan. The Teaching Excellence Award was established to recognize this strength and to honor one faculty member at this occasion who brings spirit, passion and scholarship to the art of teaching. Today we honor Professor Dan Terkla.

*This program is dedicated to the Class of 2011
and to students who have earned scholastic and activity honors.*
