Sessions for Saturday Morning

If you have any ideas for topics for a session or two, please share with the group. I think topics that are far reaching, not attached to a major and relevant to current events would be best. In that thinking, as well as connected to our voice theme, I was wondering if we might be able to do a session on community / advocacy involvement after graduation. I know that many students are highly involved on campus, but making that leap outside the bubble and continuing that while working full-time (esp. if it is NOT your full-time job) can be difficult.

As noted on the attachment, we are planning to do the career / poster session on Saturday morning as well. I am trying to get more details from Darcy on student involvement in that.

Theme

It looks like "Raise Your Voice" was the overall winner on the facebook group. Unless someone objects, I think we will go with the popular vote and start working under that theme.

Other Updates

Key Note

I spoke Casey Erin Clark and her business partner, Julie a few weeks ago. They are very excited to participate in the weekend. I shared some feedback from prior years on keynotes and will share our agenda / theme with them this week. I don't think they will need much from us prior to the event, but Claudia I told them you'd be their go to for the weekend and will likely have you introduce / support their afternoon session on Friday. They are generously providing a workshop as well as the key note and will also be using the time in the Midwest to connect with businesses. If anyone has contacts that might be interested in learning about their business, please let me know. <http://vitalvoicetraining.com/>

Friday Evening Social

We will be renting out Wilder House for the weekend and using the space to hold a social gathering on Friday evening after SheSpeaks. As in years past, this will be CFW only.

CFW Event Saturday Afternoon

On our next call, we need to decide if this is something we'd like to offer as a way to connect / debrief on the weekend before everyone heads home. I think we could do this a number of ways, both on campus or off so come with ideas!!
