Bevin Choban '10 BIO

Bevin is a Coordinator for the Action Research Center at Illinois Wesleyan University. Her responsibilities include coordinating the Give A Day Campaign, supervising and mentoring interns, and organizing TEDxIWU (AP's note: TEDxIWU was a huge success!! Major kudos to Bevin!).

Bevin is an active IWU alum and enjoys living close to campus. Before working at the Action Research Center, Bevin was the Director of Supported Employment at Marcfirst for four years, a local nonprofit supporting individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities. She currently serves on the West Bloomington Revitalization Project board and chairs the Economic Development Committee.

Bevin received her Bachelor's degree in sociology and psychology from Illinois Wesleyan University. She is a local homeowner and loves using The Tool Library for her many DIY projects. Bevin and her husband, Alexander, enjoy spending their free time with their dog, Trevor, and two cats, Lefty and Suki.

Cheryl Reinking '87 BIO

Cheryl is currently the Chief Nursing Office at El Camino Hospital in Mountain View, California where she oversees all nursing departments as well as other clinical areas. As a member of El Camino Hospital's Magnet Committee, Reinking has helped the hospital achieve Magnet status in 2005, 2010 and 2015, a distinct recognition by the American Nurses Credentialing Center for excellence in nursing.

A 1987 graduate from Illinois Wesleyan, Cheryl holds a master's degree in nursing from San Jose State University. She began working at El Camino Hospital over 29 years ago as a direct care nurse, and held various management and director positions before assuming her current role as CNO.

She has published articles on improving patient's transition from acute care to post acute care and is the recipient of multiple awards, including the El Camino Hospital Leadership in Action Award in 2005, a Silicon Valley Women of Influence Award in 2013 and the Illinois Wesleyan Distinguished Nursing Alumna Award in 2017.
