HONORS DAY CONVOCATION

ILLINOIS WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY
WEDNESDAY, MAY 4, 1983

Dr. Robert C. Bray is associate professor of English and chairman of the English department at IWU. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Kansas State College in Pittsburg, where he was awarded a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship. His master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees are from the University of Chicago. Bray joined the IWU faculty in 1970.

He is the author of Rediscoveries: Literature and Place in Illinois, which was published in 1982 by the University of Illinois Press. The book, a series of essays on Illinois writers from the time of statehood to World War I, was originally commissioned by the Center of Illinois Studies in Chicago during the mid-seventies. However, funds to publish the book were not available until the U of I Press accepted the manuscript early in 1981.

In Rediscoveries, Bray analyzes and explores the work of several nineteenth century Illinois authors, using the radical contrast between Chicago's urban lifestyle and downstate Illinois' agrarian interests as a means of organizing the book. In doing so, he uncovers a tradition of Illinois literature which has been overshadowed by the achievements of such twentieth-century authors as Carl Sandburg and Edgar Lee Masters.

Bray is the co-author of another book, The Revolutionary War Diary of Jeremiah Greenman (Northern Illinois University Press, 1976), with Paul Bushnell, associate professor of history at IWU. He received grants from the Newberry Library in Chicago and the Rhode Island Bicentennial Commission in connection with his work on the Greenman diary. In addition, he has been the recipient of a Danforth Foundation Teaching Fellowship and a summer fellowship from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

The cover drawing is taken from a wood engraving created by Fred B. Brian, professor of art at IWU, and used to illustrate a broadside based on "The Road Down from Spoon River," the epilogue from Bray's book. Brian, who joined the IWU faculty in 1952, is recognized throughout the Midwest and nationally as an outstanding artist. He has exhibited in over 135 national and regional shows since 1948, and his Retrospective Art Exhibition, featured in Merwin Gallery in 1974, was one of the gallery's major shows in recent years. Brian was named the Century Club Honoree for 1978-79.

This program is dedicated to the Seniors and to the students who have earned scholastic and activity recognition.
