JAMES R. DONNELLEY

Vice Chairman of the Board
R.R. Donnelly & Sons, Company

He's vice chairman of a publishing and information technology company that posted $6.5 billion in sales last year—a prominent landmark on Chicago's business landscape since 1864 that employs 41,000 people at 200 locations in 26 countries on five continents.

He also is a director, chairman, and a member of the Executive Committee of the prestigious National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC), which annually awards about 9,000 college scholarships valued at about $40 million.

James R. Donnelly, vice chairman of the board of R.R. Donnelly & Sons Company, is a businessman with a passion for education and the opportunities it extends to America's youngsters.

Mr. Donnelly also serves as a trustee and a member of the Executive Committee of the Associated Colleges of Illinois (ACI), a group of 24 private campuses, including Illinois Wesleyan. The ACI-Chicago Scholars Program, a sweeping mentoring and scholarship effort linking the Chicago Public Schools with ACI-member campuses, was announced last February at IWU's Founders' Day Convocation.

Mr. Donnelly joined R.R. Donnelly & Sons Co., in 1962, serving in various sales and marketing positions for a decade. He became director of the Financial and Legal Sales Division in 1972 and two years later assumed the post of vice president, Financial and Legal Sales Division. Mr. Donnelly became group vice president, Financial Services in 1983 and two years later became group president, Financial Services. In 1988, he was named group president, Corporate Development, and became vice chairman in 1990. Mr. Donnelly has been a director of the company since 1976, serving on the board's Executive and Finance committees.

He was in the U.S. Navy from 1957-60, where he was qualified in submarines and earned the rank of lieutenant.

Mr. Donnelly received a bachelor of arts degree from Dartmouth College in 1957 and a master's degree in business administration from the University of Chicago in 1962.

Mr. Donnelly, 60, is active in many community and civic organizations, including: Chicago Youth Centers (Advisory Board), Children's Memorial Hospital (director), John C. Griswold Foundation (director), Chicago Public Library Foundation (director), WTTW-Public Television (trustee and vice chairman), Lake Forest College (trustee), University of Chicago Council on the Graduate School of Business/Library Visiting Committee (member), and National Environmental, Educational, and Training Foundation (board member, vice chairman). He also is a member of the Economic Clubs of Chicago and New York and the Commercial Club of Chicago.

R.R. Donnelly & Sons Co., is a world leader in managing, reproducing, and distributing print and digital information for the publishing, retailing, merchandising, and information-technology markets. It specializes in the production of books, catalogs, magazines, directories, financial and computer documentation, and other materials.

As a leader of ACI, Mr. Donnelly has played a key role in launching the ACI-Chicago Scholars Program, which is aimed at expanding educational opportunity to inner-city youngsters. It is modeled on Detroit's Wade H. McCree, Jr. Incentive Scholarship Program, launched in 1986. Rebie R. Kingston, director of the Office of Guidance for the Detroit Public Schools and an IWU trustee, helped establish the McCree program and her office administers it. IWU, which joined the McCree program in 1994, is the only private university and non-Michigan campus in the McCree program.

Academic Colors and Regalia

Like judicial robes, the garments worn on academic occasions such as today's Commencement derive from the ecclesiastical garb of medieval England. The scholar in the Middle Ages, it must be remembered, was a clerk, and therefore required to wear the clerical gown and tonsure. Certainly, at Oxford and Cambridge, at least in the earliest times, the robes were monastic in origin, although the hood was adapted from a lay garment common to both sexes and all classes.

As early as the fourteenth Century, scholars of certain colleges were required by statute to wear "a decent habit" befitting a clerk and no evidence appears that there was much differentiation among undergraduates, bachelor's, master's and doctoral robes. All were black, commonly of lamb's wool; most were fur-lined for warmth, or at least fur trimmed; and the only mark of difference was in the fuller cut and ankle length of the master's gown. The cope, or closed cape, was also black and followed the style of the everyday mantle of the clergy.

Hoods were worn by all and probably had no academical significance at the beginning. By 1330-40 doctors began to adopt scarlet for their hoods, and by 1500, for their robes, with black retained by the masters of arts and bachelors of divinity. An act of Henry VIII in 1533 ratified the wearing of robes of other colors. Hoods were lined with silk and miniver fur, a custom surviving until the late seventeenth Century, but over the years distinctions were created to identify the various ranks and faculties.

Caps evolved in similar manner. The round velvet cap is still worn today in the full dress of doctors (except doctors in theology); the familiar square, or mortar-board, was copied in the early sixteenth Century from the thirteenth Century cap of the University of Paris. A third style also derives from Paris: a squared cap made by sewing four pieces of cloth with seams producing ridged edges, seen in modern times in the biretta of the clergy and the squared velvet cap of doctors of theology. The "who" and "how" of the wearing of caps produced numerous rulings, restrictions and change.

The Reformation repressed the brilliant silks, gold lace, costly furs and extravagant cut of academic robes, and the sober and more uniform styles are, for the most part, what we see today.

However, the growth of higher education in the United States during the nineteenth Century, when the great land grant colleges and universities were established under the Morrill Act, created a confusion of conflicting styles and colors. The easy identification of one's academic status by means of cut, fabric and color was no longer true.

In 1893 an intercollegiate commission presented a uniform code for caps, gowns and hoods to be worn in the United States. The mortarboard caps are the same for doctoral, master's and baccalaureate degrees, except that doctors' caps may be of velvet and may have a gold tassel. The bachelor's gown is marked by pointed sleeves, reaching to the knee, while the master's sleeve is squared at the ends, and longer. The doctoral robe is fullest, with rounded bell shaped sleeves marked by three velvet stripes.

The greatest symbolism of the academic costume is borne by the hood, which identifies the level of the degree, the faculty (or department of learning) in which it was earned, and the institution which awarded it. The size of the hood, its shape and the width of its velvet trim identify the level of the degree, with doctoral hoods naturally being the fullest, widest and longest. Faculty colors tell us the department. Today's graduates will be wearing white for the College of Liberal Arts, pink for the School of Music, golden yellow for the sciences and brown for the fine arts. Faculty members in the processional may be wearing light blue for education, copper for economics, drab for business and accountancy, orange for engineering, purple for law, lemon for library science, green for medicine, apricot for nursing, dark blue for philosophy, sage green for physical sciences, cream for social sciences and scarlet for theology, among the many available. The colors are mandatory on hoods, but may also be used on the tassels and/or the velvet on doctoral gowns.

The university or college is usually identified by the color of the hood lining. Two colors are frequently used, since there are approximately 2,000 degree-granting institutions in the United States. A few, such as Harvard, Yale, Princeton and the University of Chicago, use a single color. Illinois Wesleyan's green and white was adopted in 1888.

The Illinois Wesleyan University Mace, first carried at the 1969 inauguration of Dr. Robert S. Eckley as fifteenth president of the University, is also a striking symbol of the institution. Made of bronze for power and endurance and of walnut for organic strength, its cupola represents the bell tower of Old North Hall, Illinois Wesleyan's first building, which was erected in 1856 and demolished in 1967 to make way for Sheean Library. The bell suggests the Hedding Bell, a campus landmark since 1931, when it was installed on the IWU campus after peeling for generations at Hedding College, now defunct. The staff of the Mace is made from the walnut of Old North Hall, and the names of Illinois Wesleyan's presidents are engraved on its bronze base.

Prior to and during the Commencement ceremony, the Illinois Wesleyan National Alumni Association will sponsor a hospitality tent serving complimentary beverages. The tent is located on the east side of the Quadrangle in front of Holmes Hall. A first-aid station is located in the tent. In the Shirk Center, these services will be available in the lobby.

On the Quadrangle, restrooms are located on the first floor of following buildings: Shaw Hall, Memorial Center and Holmes Hall. In the Shirk Center, the restrooms are located to the north of the main lobby.

Following the ceremony, you are invited to a short reception in the tents on the south and west sides of the Quadrangle. If the ceremony is in the Shirk Center, the reception will be in the Activity Center.
