William Munro

Professor of Political Science

Recipient of the Kemp Foundation Award for Teaching Excellence — 2012

William Munro has been lauded by his peers for his internationally renowned scholarship, campus leadership and high standards in the classroom. A former director of the International Studies Program at Illinois Wesleyan and a personal mentor to many, Dr. Munro is “known for his immediately recognizable sense of humor, his formidable intellect and a modesty that attempts to hide his impressive academic pedigree,” said Associate Provost Frank Boyd.

In 2011, the American Political Science Association awarded Dr. Munro and co-author Rachel Schurman the Lynton Keith Caldwell Prize, given for the best book in environmental politics published every three years. The book, titled Fighting for the Future of Food: Activists versus Agribusiness in the Struggle over Biotechnology (University of Minnesota Press, 2010), is a scholarly analysis exploring the worldwide debate over genetically modified seeds. The book also won Honorable Mention for the American Sociological Association’s Charles Tilly award for the best book on collective behavior and social movements.

Prolific in his research, Dr. Munro has spoken at conferences across the nation and abroad, contributing to the fields of politics of state formation and development in the global south, as well as popular organization in the international food economy. In addition to a number of articles published in journals such as the American Journal of Sociology, Comparative Politics and African Rural and Urban Studies, Dr. Munro has contributed book chapters to texts such as Reconstructing Biotechnologies: Critical Social Analysis (Wageningen Academic Press, 2008) and Frontiers of Commodity Chain Research (Stanford University Press, 2008). He is also the author of The Moral Economy of the State: Conservation, Community Development, and State-Making in Zimbabwe (Ohio University Center for International Studies, 1998).

Dr. Munro, who joined the Illinois Wesleyan faculty in 2000, earned a doctorate in political science from Yale University in 1991, a bachelor’s and master’s degree from Cambridge University in 1982 and 1986, respectively, and a bachelor’s degree with honors from Natal University in South Africa in 1981. He is an honorary research professor at the University of KwaZulu-Natal in South Africa, and a research scholar at the Center for African Studies at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

At Illinois Wesleyan, Dr. Munro is a highly esteemed professor, who teaches courses in International Politics, African Politics, Conflict Areas in the Global South, Development Theory and Social Movements. He has served as a co-coordinator of the Development Studies Team, as a faculty advisor to the Illinois Wesleyan chapter of Amnesty International and the International House on campus, and as a member of the First-Year Advisory Board. He currently serves as chair for the Technos Award Selection Committee, is a member of the African Studies, Development, and Diplomatic Studies Teams of the International Studies program, and acts as faculty co-ordinator of the John and Erma Stutzman Peace Fellows Program. He also sits on the Scholars at Risk committee.

Dr. Munro is a past winner of a Fulbright Placement Fellowship, and is a member of the Phi Kappa Phi national honorary society and Phi Beta Delta international honorary society.

Excellence in teaching is a hallmark of Illinois Wesleyan. The Teaching Excellence Award was established to recognize this strength and to honor one faculty member at this occasion who brings spirit, passion and scholarship to the art of teaching. Today we honor Professor William Munro.

This program is dedicated to the Class of 2012 and
to students who have earned scholastic and activity honors.
