Rebecca Roesner

Chair and Associate Professor of Chemistry

Recipient of The Kemp Foundation Award for Teaching Excellence — 2014

Nominated by her peers and selected by the University's Promotion and Tenure Committee as the 2014 recipient of the Kemp Foundation Award for Teaching Excellence, Rebecca Roesner, chair and associate professor of chemistry, is the latest recipient of the University's top teaching award, which is now in its 41st year.

In announcing Roesner's recognition, Provost and Dean of the Faculty Jonathan Green quoted a nominator, who said, "[Roesner's] dedication and exceptional commitment to each student, and her mentoring of junior faculty in the department, create a model for other IWU faculty. She integrates scholarship in teaching of undergraduates, stimulating excitement for the acquisition of knowledge and motivating students to utilize their potentials. She is always looking for ways to enhance the college experiences of our students."

In addition to her teaching, Roesner is also passionate about her research, which explores modifying polyoxometalates the inorganic compounds that form between oxygen and certain transition metals such as vanadium, molybdenum, and tungsten. She hopes to modify polyoxometalate in such a way that, if successful, the new compound could lead to the development of new anti-HIV and anti-cancer pharmaceuticals.

A member of Illinois Wesleyan's faculty since 1997, Dr. Roesner earned a bachelor of arts degree, summa cum laude, in chemistry and history from Ohio Wesleyan University in 1992. In 1998, she completed a doctorate degree in inorganic chemistry at the University of Kansas.

At Illinois Wesleyan, Dr. Roesner serves on the University's Curriculum Council and Pre-Medical Advisory Committee and is vice president of the University's chapter of the American Association of University Professors. She is also an active member of the American Chemical Society, Phi Beta Kappa and Iota Sigma Pi, a national honor society for women in chemistry.

Dr. Roesner has displayed a clear dedication to helping Illinois Wesleyan students in their research endeavors, as well as with obtaining fellowships offered by the National Science Foundation Graduate School and the Pfizer Summer Undergraduate Research program.

The chemist's work has been featured in publications such as the "Journal of Organic Chemistry," "Journal of Computational Chemistry," "Journal of Inclusion Phenomena and Molecular Recognition in Chemistry," "Journal of Chemical Society, Chemical Communications" and many others. She presented her work at the International Symposium on Macrocyclic Chemistry, the Biennial Conference on Chemical Education as well as several meetings of the American Chemical Society.

Excellence in teaching is a hallmark of Illinois Wesleyan. The Teaching Excellence Award was established in 1972 to recognize this strength and to honor one faculty member at the annual Honors Convocation who brings spirit, passion and scholarship to the art of teaching. The Kemp Family Foundation began funding the award in 2009-10. Today we honor Associate Professor Rebecca Roesner.

and
to students who have earned scholastic and activity honors.*
