Media Advisory

Event: University Chapel Hour: Reverend Carol Lakota Eastin, director of Native American ministries, Illinois Great Rivers Conference, UMC

Date: April 3 (Wednesday)

Time: 11 a.m.

Location: Evelyn Chapel, 1301 N. Park St., Bloomington

Admission: Free, open to the public

Background: The Rev. Carol Lakota Eastin, a missionary assigned by the general board of global ministries of the United Methodist Church to the Illinois Great Rivers Annual Conference, will present "Worship in the Native American Way."

Eastin leads Native American ministries and aims to create an intertribal community for teaching about Jesus Christ and expressing a faith that affirms cultural identity.

Having spent five years as pastor of the Native American Fellowship (1995-2000), she also has served local churches for fourteen years and was a pastoral counselor at BroMenn Pastoral Counseling Services from 1982-1997.

Eastin received a bachelor of arts degree in music education and psychology from MacMurray College in Jacksonville, Ill. She earned master's degrees in theology and Christian education from Methodist Theological School in Delaware, Ohio and in counseling psychology from Illinois State University.
