Ames, IT Sponsor Student Security Awareness Contest

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. – Junior Emily Akins, sophomore Jeremy Henle and senior Lucas Loury are the winners of The Ames Library/Internet Technology (IT) computer security awareness video contest.

Akins, an orchestral instruments major and English-writing minor, Henle, a biology major, and Loury, a history major and Greek and Roman studies minor, created their 30-second video based on the song “Internet Relationships” by MC Lars.

They plan to enter the video in a national contest sponsored by Educause, a not-for-profit association whose mission is to advance higher education by promoting the intelligent use of information technology.
