Whether we will continue to move in the direction of economic freedom, or whether global development will create a backlash that will push us back a step or two. Economic freedom, and its sibling, political freedom, are hard to contain when they are unleashed, so I am optimistic. Domestically, I am concerned that the newly Democratic Congress will succeed in passing legislation that hurts our economy, but I am optimistic that gridlock will prevail.

The Class of 2007

Brandin Heidbreder

Angela Agati

Angela is from Chicago, IL and is double majoring in Economics and Business with a concentration in Marketing. She spent some of her time outside the classroom as a member of Sigma Kappa and working for the Career Center, where she is now the Internship Peer. Her favorite class taken here at IWU was Ceramics, followed closely by Race, Gender, and Discrimination taught by Professor Seeborg. After graduation she will be working for Protivi as a Business Risk Consultant in Chicago. In the future, she plans to get her MBA and eventually take over her father's furniture design company with her brother.

Ben Burry

Ben, from Trumbull, CT, is an Economics major who will be attending the University of Chicago Law School next year. Naturally, his favorite class on campus was Business 340: The Trial Class. He also enjoyed Senior Project with Professor Seeborg and working on his honors research project with Professor Chapman. Ben is a member of the Theta Chi Fraternity, the Park Place Economist staff, Titan Law Club, Omicron Delta Epsilon, and Phi Alpha Theta. Down the road, he would like to "own a large jungle cat" and live in San Diego, CA.

Ian Cohen

Ian is from Lake Zurich, IL and is majoring in Economics with a minor in Political Science.
