AUTHOR BIOGRAPHIES

Lindsey Haines is a senior double major in Political Science and Economics with a Spanish minor. She interned in the Scottish Parliament working on housing issues when studying abroad in Scotland and also worked on Debbie Halvorson's congressional campaign in 2008. She is editor in chief of the Park Place Economist, a Weir Fellow with the West Bloomington Revitalization Project, and co-captain of the golf team. Post graduation, she will be attending the University of Illinois at Chicago to obtain her masters degree in Urban Planning.

Erin Strauts is a senior Political Science major and Psychology minor who works as a Political Science Assistant. She is active in College Democrats and Pride Alliance and has previously interned with the Human Rights Campaign and the National Opinion Research Center (NORC). She will be attending the University of Connecticut next year as a PhD candidate in Social Psychology. There she will continue her studies of political psychology and survey research.

Nate Wheatley is a Political Science and Economics double major. He has been involved in Student Senate and the Illinois Wesleyan Civic Orchestra all four years, in addition to being a member of the Financial Advisory Board for three. He is currently seeking employment prior to attending law school. Distinctions include being published in both the Park Place Economist and here, as well as his Eagle Scout award. He enjoys discussing politics, playing the string bass, computer games and reading.

Erica Podrazik is a senior at Illinois Wesleyan University, and will graduate in May of 2010 with a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Political Science and a minor in History. Erica's primary areas of interest include state building processes and international law. She is a member of various groups on campus, including Illinois Wesleyan College Republicans and Illinois Wesleyan University Global Politics Society. After graduation, Erica plans to study international law and, one day, pursue a career with a non-governmental or inter-governmental organization.
