Poster Presentation P12

BEYOND THE SHIRT AND TIE: VALUES, BELIEFS, & PRACTICES AMONG MEMBERS OF THE CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST OF LATTER DAY SAINTS IN BLOOMINGTON

Joseph Daniels and Rebecca Gearhart*
Sociology and Anthropology Department, Illinois Wesleyan University

Using photographic and collaborative ethnographic methods, this poster presentation sheds light on the LDS (Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints) community in Bloomington, IL. I attended and participated in services, as well as interviewed members of the community for pertinent information about organization and membership. The photographs in the poster were taken during the three-hour Sunday services held in the meetinghouse during the month of February, 2012. A collaborative effort allowed for the accurate representation of aspects of the community's beliefs and practices. Due to the sacredness of some of the services, members of the community and I designed alternative strategies to represent important rituals that could not be documented in real time.
